George Broughton

Godolphin Flying Start Trainee

PROFILE

Having grown up near Newmarket, an area so reliant upon Thoroughbred horse racing, I have been able to witness the immense social and economic contribution of the sport. This alongside my time spent in Australasia has demonstrated to me the importance of the sport to so many, and why its continued health and longevity is of paramount importance. My ambition is to pursue a career in the governance of the sport alongside an involvement in thoroughbred sales.

EDUCATION

Godolphin Flying Start Trainee

2020-2022

University of Edinburgh

Politics MA (Hons) First Class Honours / 2015 - 2019

EXPERIENCE

Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott Racing- Stable Hand and Office Assistant

September 2019- November 2019 and February- April 2020

Working in both the Sydney and Melbourne stables during the Carnival period. Assisting during race days both strapping and saddling up runners as well as helping look after owners. I would also work in the office processing notes on runners and vet work, and helping organise owner hospitality.

New Zealand Bloodstock- Intern

November 2019-February 2020

Assisting in the run up to both the Ready to Run and the Karaka yearling sales. Assessing yearlings and two-year-olds ahead of the sale and working with the marketing team, whilst bid spotting and helping on sign up during the sale itself.

Charlie Fellowes Racing- Pupil Assistant

June 2019-August 2019

Helping around the yard, with feeding, bandaging, medications and vet rounds. As well as saddling up on race days and representing the yard.

Europe: Tweenhills Farm and Stud

Working on the stud helping with the mares and foals, yearlings and stallions. I also spent time at the sales with David Redvers learning about his eye for conformation as well as his selection criteria.

INTERESTS & SKILLS

- Outside of racing, I enjoy a variety of sports especially cricket and golf.
- I am also fascinated by politics.
