PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

During university, I mixed journalist roles at the Mornington Peninsula News Group and the Winning Post with administrative roles at the Melbourne Racing Club and Racing.com. I also engaged in hands on work in the racing stables of Pat Carey, and Jason Warren and Dean Krongold. I also co-ordinated the results and vision for all jumpouts in the state with Racing Victoria.

I've become very adaptable at picking up different skills over the years and have also gained valuable experience with multimedia and editorial work.

My focus is now solely on the racing industry, with a keen interest in training one day in the future. This next year on the Flying Start will play a key role in my next venture.
